SKILLFUL BUYING!"

In debating this question, it would be necessary for the advocate of the "SKILLFUL BUYER" to shut his eves to the qualification of the "CASH BUYER," and assume that the latter, though his Cash be the fruits of long years of patient labor and the result of a successful business career, he is now devoid of that discrimination and judgment that has characterized him in the past. Blindly assuming this, the "SKILLFUL BUYER" loudly proclaims his wisdom in waiting until the end of the season before making his purchases in the San Francisco market, overlooking the fact that the CASH BUYER, who buys for five stores direct from headquarters in the far East, can better afford to sell at a discount than can the San Fran- IP IR I IN II IN G. cisco Jobbers, whether in or out of season

Reasons Why the Attempted Special Legislation Against Chinese in San Francisco Failed.

Below we present the full text of the opinion of United States Judges Field and Sawyer in the recent San Francisco Laundry Ordinance case : In the matter of Quong Woo, on habeas

In May of the present year an ordinance was passed by the Board of Supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco, which took effect on the tenth day of June follow-ing, to regulate the establishment, maintenance and licensing of laundries within certain designated limits, and prescribing punishment for establishing or carrying on the business of a laundry in violation of its In its first section the ordinance declares that after its passage it shall be unlawful for any person "to establish, maintain or carry on any laundry within that pertion of the city and county of San Francisco lying and being east of Ninth and Larkin streets, with-out having first obtained the consent of the Board of Supervisors, which shall only be granted upon the recommendation of not less han twelve citizens and tax-payers in the Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Soreness of the Chest block in which the laundry is proposed to be established, maintained or carried on." The second section declares that the Li-Gout, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Swellcanse Collector shall not issue a license to any person or persons proposing to establish, maintain or carry on a laundry within the limits mentioned, unless he, she or they shall first have obtained from the Board of Super-visors their written consent thereto, based Tooth, Ear and Headache, Frosted upon the recommendation of citizens and tax-payers, as provided in the first section.

The third section makes the violation of these provisions a misdemeanor, upon convic-No Preparation on earth equals St. Jacobs On as a safe, sure, simple and cheap External Remedy. Here we are concerned only with the business of a laundry by itself; the manner or the buildings in which it is conducted are not before us. The ordinance applies as well to a laundry in a fire-proof b to one in a wooden shanty. In the business of a laundry by itself there is nothing object ionable that may not be urged against all coupations in the city and county. If, herefore, the Supervisors can make its prosecution depend upon the approval of others in its neighborhood, they may require a similar approval for the prosecution of other business equally inoffensive. They may rebusiness equally inoffensive. quire members of the bar to close their offices against professional business unless they can secure the recommendation in their behalf of such parties in the block where the offices are as may be designated. So, too, with bankers, merchants, traders, mechanics, journalists, publishers, printers—indeed, with all brain-workers and hand workers—the pursuit of their vocations in particular localities may be made to depend not upon their wishes, their means, the position of their property, the facilities afforded for their business, but upon the favor or caprice of others, whose actions they cannot control by any legal pro-

The power of legislation vested in them is a public power of legislation vested in the public power of legislation vested power of legislation vested in them is a public trust, which can only be executed in consonance with the general purposes of the municipality, and in subordination to the general laws and policy of the State. Their ordinances must be reasonable, that is, not be wiled along, dragging her puppies in a similar net or basket stretched across particular to the had gone to the hut for her, and described to the hut for her and oppressive, nor unequal, nor unjust in their operation, or they will not be upheld. Such is the well established doctrins with respect to the legislation of municipal bodies. In exparts Frank it was applied by the Supreme Court of California to an ordinance passed by ex parte Frank it was applied by the Supreme Court of California to an ordinance passed by the Supervisors, usder the Act in question, exacting a license for selling goods, and fixing a different rate where the goods were within the corporate limits or in transitu to the city, and where the goods were without the city, and where the goods were without the city, and where the goods were without the city, and pot in transitu to it. The ordinance passed by the Indian, and the Chippewas, the grant of California to an ordinance passed by the strength of the cast on them was decidedly one of approval. As time went on, Will and Mabel, being so constantly together, despite their different social status, discovered that they were in love, and so very naturally he asked by the Indian, and the Chippewas, when to become him, as the look which he cast on them was decidedly one of approval. the city and not in transitu to it. DOMESTIC NEWS. erious Charges Against Conkling, Jay Gould and Governor Cornell. ALBANY, August 17th -Certain statement the editorial columns of the Journal last ening and the Argus this morning, in which ng figure, have created a sensation in polit ical circles here.

The Journal's leading editorial yesterday yas entitled "Why Conkling and Jay Gould pose Cornell," and bore evident marks of riends. In the first place it reviews the re-ations which existed between Cornell and Conkling before and after the latter's resigna-ion from the Senate, and the ressons which ed to the political break between the two esders. The latter half of the article contains the following serious charges of at-tempted bribery of the Governor by Jay Gould and his agents: "We have stated, what is known to every one, that Conkling was the retained attorney of een so since his retirement from the Senate A year ago last winter a bill was passed in the Legislature relieving the Pacific Mail Steamship Company of the city tax—$100,000. It ship company of the city tax—$100,000. It ship company of the city tax—$100,000. ship Company of the city tax—$100,000. It was a bill against law, tquity and decency, but the Governor was asked to give it his approval. Gould was largely interested in the swindle, and Conkling, as his counsel, was anxious that it should not encounter an executive veto. He so intimated in his blandest and most persuarive way, and this blandest and most persuarive way, and the counter an executive veto. He so intimated in his blandest and most persuarive way, and the counter and the count encounter an executive veto. He so intimated in his blandest and most persuasive way, and others by authority assured the Governor bill. But the Governor could not be per-suaded, either by Gould, Conkling or others, which his renomination would be made easy and his election sure. He was told that as dians in the Days from the Da a large block of the new stock would be placed in the hands of parties named, and the Governor himself would not be forgotten. And further, that as the stock would immediately advance $30 per share, an interest in the divide would enable the fortunate holders to turn a handsome penny without risk or inconvenience. The answer of the Governor to these glittering proffers was given in his veto of the bill, which if he had healed, his renomination would have ensued, and a handsome sum guaranteed to make his calling and election sure.

The Argus to-day takes up the matter, and claims that the Journal only gives part of the story. It says Jay Gould and Cornell had a conference when the elevated railway tax bill was introduced, and an approval of the meas ure was secured; that while the bill was in the hands of the Governor he held interviews in New York with Conkling personally, and lar Gould theorem. FOREIGN NEWS Affairs in Egypt. ALEXANDRIA, August 17th. — General Wolseley has decided that the British advance shall be made from Aboukir. The troops will attack the Aboukir forts Sunday.

The Khedive to-day visited General Wol y and remained an hour. It; is reported that negotiations are ceeding for the surrender at Meks of 2,000 Bedouins now with Arabi Pasha. Another eport states that General Wolseley will ake an attack, possibly on Saturday morning, in two columns, one along the route of the last reconvoisance, and the other by way of Lake Aboukir, taking Arabi at a point here his right rear rests on Mahm THE MISSING ITALIAN NAVAL OFFICER.

London, August 17th .- In the House Con.mens this afternoon the Speaker read a letter from Judge Lawson announcing the however. ommittal of Gray. Gladstone stated that precedents in cases similar to that of Gray show that the appointment of a committee the proper course at the present period of the session. However, it is too late to secure the appointment of a representative committee. He did not, moreover, know of any way which a committee could release Gray, if they wished to do so. He therefore made a purel ormal motion that the letter of Judge Lawson be placed on the table.

A passing reference of Gladstone to an address to the Crown for the removal of Judge Lawson as one of possible alternative courses, Sexton attacked Judge Lawson for preventing Gray from making a defense.

The proposal of Gladstone is simply means to defer the matter until Gray's term expires. Gray has telegraphed the Gladstone, informing them of his committal, and the refusal of Judge Lawson to grant him an adjournment of his case.

Sexton read telegrams reciting affidavits sworn to to-day, declaring that several of the urymen who convicted Hynes were drunk repeated the accusation of jary-packing freland. Sexton said that so long as the ives of the Irish people were at the mercy of gal chicanery, no minor reforms would sat sfy them. Gray's imprisonment was a scandal and disgrace to justice. Wm. John, Attorney General for Ireland, stated the details of the composition of juries, with a view to rebut the accusations. He declared that nothing could be worse that Gray's conduct. The Attorney General added now the statement relative drunkenness of the jury that convicted Hypes had been repeated in Parliament, Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, would investigate it with regard to carrying out the capi tal sentence passed upon Hynes.

Plunkett, Conservative member for Dublin University, supported the Government. He considered that in consequence of Gray's high position it was right that his punishment should have been exemplary.

The debate continued until the suspension of the afternoon sitting, the Irish member repeating Sexton's accusations.

At the resumption of the sitting the bate relative to the sentence of Gray was not resumed, owing to the total absence of Irish members. Gladstone moved an adjournment of the House from to-morrow until the 24th of October, which was carried without division. The House was counted out at 9:20 P. M. DUBLIN, August 17th .- A meeting at which Lord Mayor Dawson presided was held at the Mansion House to-day, for the purpose of starting a fund for the assistance of evicted tenants. Parnell and Dillon were present, and the attendance was large. The Lor Mayor read a letter from Gray, dated i prison. He inclosed £20, and declared that heir cause was that of justice and progress

The reading of the letter was received with theers and shouts of "Down with Lawson The police apprehend a disturbance to-night, as great indignation prevails. Dublin, August 17th .- Freeman's Journa of which Gray is proprietor, says: "Gray's sentence is absolutely unparalleled. He only received notice of the nature of the proceedings against him Tuesday night, and was without time to prepare his defense, which would probably have consisted of affidavita sustaining the truth of his published asser-tions. If his imprisonment tends in any way towards a reform of legal abuses and the pro-motion of the freedom. motion of the freedom of the press, he will cheerfully endure it." LONDON, August 17th .- The Pall Mall Foreign Grain Crop. London, August 17th.—A dispatch from Berlin says: In Germany, although damaged in a few districts, the grain crops, as a whole, are fully up to the average. In Russia, th crops in the central and southern provinces, which suffered greatly from rains, insects and blight, are considerably under the average. In Finland, Ceurland, Livonia, Rostsoff and the vailey of the river Don Gori, medium harvests have been secured. Throughout Hungary the yield is good, especially in Southern Hungary, where the rye and r crops are excellent. In European Turkey the appointments four are credited to California, five to Colorado, one to Nevada, one to Oregon, two to Dakota, one to Wyoming and nine to the United States army. There and Norway a fair average is reported. Rains have ruined two-thirds of the harvest in Bohemia. The potato crop of Galicia and

BREEDS AND WOOL .- In breeding sheep there is something else to be attained in the wool besides quantity, that something eing fineness or quality. All breeds of sheep are not alike in regard to the character of the wool, and the length, cleanliness and degree of fineness regulate the market price. A fleece may be of unusual weight and yet bring but little in the market on account of poor condition, and many small deeces have brought good sums in the mar ket owing to their high quality. No sheep can compete with the pure bred Merino in fineness of wool, although three-quarter bloods have made good fleeces. Of the 'downs" the first in order for fine wool, or rather medium wool, are the Southdowns and the grades produced by them. The Oxforddowns are next to the Southdown grades, and the Shropshiredown grades follow next. As the "downs" are mutton sheep, and are bred principally for that purpose, the wool has been heretofore secondary product; but they produce finer wools than the long-wooled or ings" sheep, such as the Cotswolds or Leiesters. The Cotswolds fleece is of greater ength, and, compared with that from the Merino, seems coarse; but there is a certain use for such fleeces, and they command certain markets, in which the fleeces do

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court on yesterday decided the case of Barrett vs. Sims, reversing the judgment of Judge Denson. The case was one which involves the power of the Superior Court in proceedings in insolvency to qualify an order setting apart a homestead to the insolvent, in such manner as to provide that in no case should the order be construed to give to the homestead claimant more than $5,000 worth of property. The question also as to the power of the Court to order a homestead thus set aside to be sold, provided it brought more than $5,000, was involved in the case. The Supreme Court held that the power of the insolvency Court was limited to the absolute setting aside of the homestead without qualification, and that the Superior Court had no power to be its value; the only method of selling a homestead by forced sale being by the appointment of appraisers, as provided by the day

'Tis a jolly day from East to West, For children thrive, and mothers rest,
The darling girls all named Victoria,
And with the boys, they have Castoria.
It is a fact, there is no "may be,"
A mother's milk can't save the baby,
While sweet Castoria digests their food,
Gives them health and makes them good.

JONATHAN EDWARDS' FRANKNESS .- One of Jonathan Edwards' contemporaries, the Rev. Dr. B., in an adjoining town, discarded the severest of the Calvanistic dogmas. A notorious scamp in the town much affected in a revival, went to the doc tor and said to him, in the religious par-lance of the time, "I realize that I am the chief of sinners." "Glad to hear it!" replied the dominie, "your neighbors have long realized it!" "I feel," persisted the whining penitent, "that I am willing to be damned for the glory of God," "Well," responded the hard-hearted preacher, don't know anybody around here that SHORT-HAND FOR THE BLIND. Dr. Arendts, the inventor of the steneraphic system named after him, has finally succeeded in arriving at a most important result in the instruction of the blind. It will be remembered, the German schools for the blind adopted about three years ago the so-called point-type, with the working of which one has good reason to be satisfied on the whole. Its chief inconvenience was that not only the writing itself, but still more the reading of written matter, consumed too much time The idea of utilizing stenography in blind schools has frequently been mooted among teachers, but hitherto never been practically realized.
